7. Pam Judd has a progressive neurological disorder which is attacking her motor skills and muscles. She had her appointment with her neurologist last Friday. The doctor believes something may be going on, because Pam's left side is weaker than in her previous exam, and is weaker than the right side. He sent her over for x-rays, which showed degenerative disc disease. Now Pam is scheduled for an MRI on March 28, and the doctor wants to see her again in July. The doctor also has prescribed seizure medication for the nystagmus (inability to focus) of her eyes. Please keep Pam in your prayers, as she has many decisions she is going to have to make.
8. Please continue to pray for the health and well-being of our expectant moms - Jenna Judd, Abby Montgomery, Olivia Benton, Brooke Rafferty, and Rachel Gearhart. Pray also for the health and safety of the little ones. Jenna and Justin are expecting a baby girl within the next couple of weeks, Abby and Joel are expecting a boy in April, and Olivia and Jesse are expecting another little boy.

14. Several months ago, George Yeager's brother-in-law, Tommy Rawlins, had surgery to remove a cancerous tumor from his bladder. He has finished the round of cancer treatments he had been doing once a week for 6 weeks. Now doctors will allow some time for his bladder to heal, and at the beginning of May, they will test to see if the treatment worked as anticipated. He is doing great, and he and the family thank everyone for their continued prayers.

15. Dana Eby had surgery February 14 on his ankle. Dana is using crutches and a scooter, and is recuperating at home. He is not allowed to put any weight on his foot for several more weeks, but is doing quite well, and is very thankful for all the encouraging calls and cards. 16. Amber Smith and her family doctor believe she and the children may have Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome, which is a genetic disorder. Amber hopes to have genetic testing soon, and has monthly occupational manipulation therapy appointments with her family doctor. She has had a lot of pain, and was also told her hip is out of place. Amber will have a pre-op appointment with a surgeon on April 27, and a hysterectomy May 11. She is asking for continued prayer for clearness of mind, and strength to get through each day. 18. Susan Chambers' dad, Lash LaRue, is still at Austin Trace Health & Rehab Center, but is now on hospice care. He is very weak and not able to walk, and it has been a struggle to get him to eat and drink. Please pray for Lash, and for the family as they attempt to make wise decisions.

19. Please continue to pray for Kristen Booher's mother, Grace. Grace had been suffering from a kidney stone and complications. She had a procedure a couple weeks ago to take out her stent, remove the stone, and then put in a new stent. Unfortunately, her insurance would not approve a longer stay at a nursing home. Her main issue now seems to be potential threat of infection, and her dementia seems to be worse. Please pray for strength and wisdom, especially for Kristen, as she tries to determine the best type of care for her mom and dad, that it would be an affordable option, and that her parents would accept God's will and cooperate with any changes in their lives.

20. Chris Steagall's sister, Debbie, is very overwhelmed and anxious with several issues that have arisen after the loss of her husband, and with her current health issues. Please keep her in your prayers.
